British Commons Pays Tribute To Balfour's Memory M.P.'s Adjourn While the Balfour Funeral Arranged

Death of Outstanding British Statesman in Eighty-second Year Mourned in Message From King George and in Declaration by Premier MacDonald.

Canadian Press
London, March 19.—The House of Commons sat for two minutes to-day and then adjourned out of respect for the memory of the Earl of Balfour, who died this morning. The adjournment was moved by Premier MacDonald.

MESSAGE FROM KING
King George sent the following message to Rt. Hon. Gerald W. Balfour, who becomes the Second Earl: "The death of Lord Balfour will evoke throughout the Empire and in many other parts of the world feelings of deep sorrow which the Queen and I fully share. It is a national loss of a great statesman, the last of Queen Victoria's ministers. I shall treasure his memory as a lifelong friend, a great and charming personality, a wise and trusted counselor."

Premier MacDonald, informed that at once of the Earl's death, said at his home this morning: "It is the end of a long useful life and the whole nation will unite in expressing its regret and in paying its tribute."

DIED AT BROTHER'S HOME
Woking, Surrey, Eng., March 19.—The Earl of Balfour, veteran British statesman, died at 8.45 a.m. to-day in a room at the home of his brother, Rt. Hon. Gerald W. Balfour, a widow at his bedside overlooked one of the most beautiful scenes in Surrey.

The end came peacefully to the statesman, who was in his eighty-second year. He had been distressingly ill for a long time with laryngitis, and came here after an improvement in his condition to convalesce. He had several setbacks, however, and was never able to return to his home at Wiltshire, where he had lived for many years. Members of his family were at his bedside when the end came.

LONG PUBLIC CAREER
From the time he entered Parliament in 1874 until the closing years of his life the Earl of Balfour figured as an important factor in British politics. The Earl's political career spanned by a good margin of the latter years of the reign of Queen Victoria, extended through the reign of King Edward VII, and through more than fifteen years of the reign of King George.

PREMIER KING VOICES SORROW AT EARL'S DEATH
Ottawa, March 19.—When the House of Commons opened this afternoon Premier King expressed the sorrow of the members of the House and the people of Canada at the death of the Earl of Balfour.

Mr. King said he was sure he expressed the feelings of every member when he stated they deeply mourned the passing of one who had had such a great and distinguished career. For over half a century Lord Balfour had played a large part in the affairs of Britain and the Empire, even back in the time of Lord Salisbury, Parnell and Gladstone.

Accountant Does Not Tell of Other Firms at Solloway Mills Preliminary Trial
Calgary, March 19.—Admission by Kenneth J. Morrison, chartered accountant and leading prosecution witness that the terms "jockey broker" and "wash sales" did not necessarily suggest dishonest or disreputable brokerage operations and that the accumulated profits of Solloway Mills & Company mentioned in Tuesday's evidence might be accounted for by a large turnover with moderate profits in the company's many offices, was made in the course of a stiff cross-examination by A. A. McCullivray, K.C., chief defence counsel, at this morning's session of the preliminary hearing of I. W. C. Solloway and Harvey Mills before Magistrate J. H. Dill.

New Coal Company Directors Arrive to Push Development Up-Island

Plans to change the name of Boat Harbor, just south of Nanaimo, to Pittsburgh, B.C., were announced to-day by F. H. Willing of San Francisco, secretary of the Canadian Coal and Iron Company. He has come north with H. G. Others in the party are John Sandberg, general manager, and Joseph Finch, director of the company, both from San Francisco.

Mr. Willing said that the Canadian Coal and Iron Company yesterday completed the purchase of 750 feet of waterfrontage on the north shore of Burrard Inlet for its bunkering yards and for the site of its by-product plant. He said that the plant and equipment at Boat Harbor is to be enlarged to handle the coal shipments from the island mines and equipment will be installed there for certain by-product operations. He said it is expected this will mean the growth there.

DRUGLESS BILL AWAITS RULING

Speaker to Decide if It Can Come Before Legislature This Session
Different Bill From First Produced, Says Twigg; Manson Objects

The point of whether a bill relating to the same subject could be introduced to the Legislature after the private bills committee had rejected it and the House had adopted the report of the committee, was set back by the drugless bill in the Legislature yesterday to await a ruling by Mr. Speaker Jones.

When H. D. Twigg, who sponsored the new bill drafted after the original bill was thrown out, rose to introduce it to the House yesterday afternoon, A. M. Manson, K.C., rose to a point of order. He recalled the first bill before the committee and the adoption of the committee's report unanimously by the Legislature. The new bill now offered was substantially the same, he said, although it might differ in details. The House had given its verdict for this session at least, but the door was not closed to the chieftains and drugless dealers. New reasons and arguments might arise during the recess or the personnel of the House might change within the next year, but he submitted and quoted authorities to show that the House could not discuss the bill this session.

Mr. Twigg took issue with Mr. Manson. He questioned the authorities cited, and claimed the new bill was a different issue entirely, dealing with a different set of people and was totally different in character. The preamble of the other bill was thrown out. The bill itself was never before the House. Mr. Manson had raised a subtle point of parliamentary law, he submitted, which should not be supported by the House.

Mr. Speaker Jones reserved his decision.

George Wester, Liberal, Calgary, being the sole dissenter. The vote was taken yesterday evening.

New British Ambassador Arrives In United States

By KEN CLARK.
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent
New York, March 19.—Sir Ronald Lindsay, newly-appointed British Ambassador to the United States, and Lady Lindsay are visitors in New York to-day, the diplomat being on his way to Washington to take up his post.

Sir Ronald and Lady Lindsay arrived aboard the Aquitania in New York harbor last night.

Emerging from the door of his state room in response to their knocking, Sir Ronald loomed above a dozen newspapermen, an immense figure of a man, six feet four and built in athletic proportion. He was smoking an insignificant cigarette in a black holder. His face was fresh and ruddy, his close-cropped hair whitening.

Among other things Sir Ronald told the newspapermen was that he assumed the major problem confronting him as Ambassador at Washington was disarmament. He described disarmament as a means of working toward abolition of war, which took up nine-tenths of the time of diplomats in these days.

He expressed confidence in the outcome of the London Conference and suggested that what was accomplished (Concluded on Page 19)

BOOKKEEPER AT SOOKE IS FOUND DEAD

Jean Durand, 58, Dies in Room at Hotel From Bullet Wound

Inquest to Be Held To-morrow Afternoon in City; Gun Beside Body

With a bullet hole through the head, the body of Jean Durand, fifty-eight, bookkeeper at the Belvedere Hotel, Sooke, was found shortly after 10 o'clock last night in his room at the hotel.

The discovery was made by a clerk at the hotel, who was attracted by the sound of the shot. Death was believed instantaneous as the man was dead when the clerk arrived on the scene.

A .33-caliber revolver, recently fired and with one empty shell in the chamber, was found beside the body.

An inquest over the body will be held to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock at a Thomson's Funeral Home, where the remains were taken.

Constables H. P. Hughes and A. G. Carmichael of the British Columbia Police visited the scene of the affair last night and made arrangements for the removal of the body.

It is believed by police the man took his own life. The revolver found beside the body belonged to him and it appeared he had put it into his mouth and pulled the trigger.

Durand had been employed at the hotel for the last two years. As far as is known he had no relatives in this part of the world.

NEW TURN AT NAVAL PARLEY IS SURPRISE

MacDonald and Briand Have Conversation on Threat of Deadlock

London, March 19.—Naval Limitation Conference negotiations took a surprise turn to-night, with Premier MacDonald of Great Britain visiting French Minister Briand at French headquarters. It had been reported earlier in the evening that M. Briand was planning to make a trip to Paris soon.

NEW IMPETUS NEEDED
London, March 19.—The chiefs of the British and United States delegations to the Naval Limitation Conference to-day decided an effort must be made to bring the French and British to actual contact with each other if the Franco-Italian party deadlock is to be broken.

The decision was reached at a luncheon at which Premier MacDonald and Rt. Hon. A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, were guests of United States Secretary of State Stimson at United States headquarters.

NEW POLICY TO GOVERN FARMS

An important taxation amendment applying to such districts as Sanich is contained in a bill to amend the Municipal Act, which was introduced in the Legislature this morning. The amendment deals with farms of five or more acres, and provides that it shall be assessed at the value of the land for farm purposes only and not on its value for any other purpose.

Other amendments give municipalities power to issue and refuse licenses for automobile camps. Taxation rates are set on pole lines, cables and wires, within municipalities with a population of 10,000 or more, at $200 per mile of pole-line, cables and wires and in the case of all other municipalities, $125 per mile.

Assessment on single tracks of tramway companies is set at the rate of $5,280 per mile, and the rate for railway track at $5,280 of main line tracks and $3,250 per mile of all other tracks, whether the track is on a public highway or on a privately owned right-of-way. The assessment of railway-tracks includes the assessment of the right-of-way upon which tracks are laid.

NEW BUILDING PLANNED FOR DOUGLAS ST.

Last of Vacant Property Opposite City Hall to Have Two-story Structure

Plans for a two-story building on Douglas Street opposite the City Hall were under way to-day.

The building is to cover the vacant lot property at the southeast corner of Douglas and Cormorant Streets. It adjoins the Douglas Street offices and showrooms of the B.C. Electric Railway Company.

The new building will have a frontage of 74 feet on Douglas, with a depth along Cormorant of 104 feet. The ground floor will be all store space, with a hall upstairs.

With erection of this building, the last of the vacant properties on the east side of Douglas Street, between Port Street and the Hudson's Bay department store will have disappeared. Representatives of the owners to-day explained that increasing demand for business space on Douglas Street in the district between the two big department stores and the centering of the interest of all the big chain stores on the thoroughfare, had led to the development of the property.

100 ARE INJURED IN CLASH IN RANGOON

U.S. TARIFF ON SHINGLES PREDICTED
Rangoon, Burma, March 19.—More than 100 persons were injured in a disturbance to-day outside the courtroom wherein J. N. Sengupta, mayor of Calcutta, was being tried for sedition growing out of utterances made in support of Mahatma Gandhi's campaign of civil disobedience. Thirty police were among those injured.

The crowd outside the courtroom threw bricks at the police and the military was requisitioned to disperse them.

One prominent Indian who went outside the court to try to pacify the crowd also was injured.

It was understood the trouble arose when an Indian leading a procession struck a policeman.

MARCH SLOWLY
Borad, Bombay, India, March 19.—Mahatma Gandhi, Indian Nationalist leader, arrived at the village of Raas this morning three hours after leaving here. It is only five miles from Borad to Raas, but the footsore party traveled slowly.

This evening Gandhi and his party plan to cross the river at Kamkappu by boat, continuing on their way to Jalapur, where they expect to manufacture salt in violation of the government monopoly, thus beginning in earnest their campaign of civil disobedience toward the government.

WASHINGTON SENATOR'S SECRETARY SAYS TWO HOUSES WILL PUT ON SMALL LEVY

Seattle, March 19.—When the tariff bill comes out of conference between the Senate and House at Washington it will carry a small duty on shingles, according to a statement made in Seattle to-day by Frank Bell, secretary to Senator C. C. Dill.

This had been assured, he declared, while leaders were conferring with lumber and shingle men of the northwest.

"The duty probably will not be heavy, and in fact it may amount to only ten or fifteen cents a thousand," he said. "In other words, after we get a tariff on shingles, the President can increase it as necessary to protect the industry."

NO LUMBER TARIFF
"The fact that one of the houses placed a tariff on shingles will permit it to be considered in conference. However, there will be no tariff on lumber, as the conference committee is barred from considering such a duty. Neither the House nor the Senate allowed a lumber duty, hence it is considered new legislation and cannot be taken up."

Famed Statesman Who Died in England To-day Entered British House of Commons as Member in 1874; Many Messages of Sympathy Reach His Brother, the New Earl

The messages came from all parts of Great Britain, from many other parts of the Empire and from other countries.

The author of "Defence of Philosophic Doubt," "The Foundations of Belief," and "Theism and Humanism," was not only a man who stood on public life, transparent, cleverness, and public skill for his subtle hold on the public. He was credited with never using a newspaper, on the supposition that if there was anything important someone would tell him about it, while there was not, a newspaper was a superfluous thing. Since he had nothing for the recording of his own thoughts and achievements. "It is for this reason," he said, "that many of his works may be regarded as a collection of fragments."

Despite this, whenever in 1921 he came to give an account of his stewardship as the chief British representative at the League of Nations, he was always listened to with close attention. That was because of his fascination about the longing and the guiding figure sitting unperturbed through slashing attacks on the government, when it was made, whether a figure that finally rose slowly, though unwillingly disturbed—to the height of its long legs, and in a few minutes the political scene was a different piece with expectant friends.

Meantime Balfour was obtaining an insight into the business of government by acting as private secretary to his uncle, Lord Salisbury, Secretary for Foreign Affairs. In that capacity he attended the Berlin Congress in 1878 with his uncle and Lord Beaconsfield, and thus earned something of German diplomacy.

WORK IN IRELAND
Ireland at that time, 1887, was in a state of chaos. The "reign of terror" was in full force. Balfour suppressed the disorders by abolishing trial by jury.

A sort period of quiet work as First Lord of the Treasury ensued, and then Balfour retired from office with his party in 1892, remaining on the Opposition benches until 1905.

For ten years consecutively the Conservative Party remained in power until 1908. In the interval, after Salisbury's death, Balfour was twice called to the position of Premier, in 1902. In 1905 the question of tariffs rang the death-bell of the Conservative administration and brought about the temporary eclipse of Salisbury, but in 1906, again, 1903 he was elected a member of Parliament from the city of London, and served mainly in that capacity until 1914, when he broke away from the Conservatives and joined the Liberals. In 1914 again brought his abilities as an administrator into recognition.

Balfour remained at the Foreign Office until 1919, when he was succeeded by Lord Curzon. He then became Lord President of the Council, an office without departmental duties which eased life for him and at the same time enabled him to be a colleague in the Cabinet to profit by his ripe experience and his sage advice.

This tendency was not confined to politics. In literature and science also he was a helpful and thoughtful adviser. And even in politics his influence was no longer confirmed to his own party. The war had a wonderful effect—his quietness and his calmness, his qualities of statesmen; and it was very gratifying to find how men who had been the centres of bitter controversy or minor quarrels, and who were in the regard of men who had often ranged against them.

Lord Balfour was a conspicuous example of this tendency. Though his loyalty to Conservative principles never wavered, he became more and more a man of action, and was regarded with affectionate respect by men of all parties who differed from him most strongly in political faith.

VISITED PALESTINE

It was remarkable to see a man of his years and labors undertaking a pilgrimage to Palestine in 1925 to show his sympathy with the Jewish National Home movement with which his name had become inseparably connected.

It was not till 1929 that time really seemed to begin to toll on Lord Balfour's mortal frailty. In 1926 he had said at dinner that he had reached the time of life when he would have to give up golf and take to tennis. As a matter of fact, he did actually play tennis till about 1932; but his abandonment of golf at Whittington House, and the announcement of the sale of his London house, 4 Carlton Gardens, in which Lord Palmerston had lived and which Lord Balfour himself had bought in 1864, were indications that he was being expelled more and more to limit his

State, Charles Evans Hughes. He described Mr. Hughes's speech as opening "a new chapter in the history of world construction," and, speaking of the proportions of naval strength laid down in the scheme, he said: "With the United States, which is armed with those fleets, with the proportion of disarmament which it lays down for those fleets, the government of the country which represents us in the fullest and heartiest sympathy."

He introduced a proposal to abolish the submarines; favored a resolution prohibiting the use of poison gas in war; took a leading part in the discussion over limiting military aircraft; proposed a resolution to prohibit the importation of arms into China, and entered into negotiations which resulted in Great Britain and Japan returning Wei-Hai-Wei, Kiauchau, and the Shantung Railway to China.

People are hard of this honor with a feeling akin to dismay, not because it was not well earned, but because the name of Balfour was so inseparably associated with the courage and nobility and with a century of the nation's political life that they felt there was something almost tragic in its being lost in this little and unimportant piece. Fortunately, the possession by the recipient of the honor of a large property and a high social position in the House of Balfours of Balfour enabled him to retain the old name and he entered the House of Lords as the Earl of Balfour, thus retaining the possession title—that which would have been borne as a courtesy by his older son had Balfour been married and had he been a peer. The title of Viscount of Traprain Law, an eminence of his estate at Whittingham, famous in archæology as the spot where a number of Roman coins were found, was also applied toward the close of the Roman occupation of Britain were found dur-

PRESIDENT OF COUNCIL.
With his entry into the Upper House Lord Balfour became its leader until 1925, when Sir Hon. Stanley Baldwin became its second member after the Conservative Party's defeat in the 1923-24 term of office of the Labor Party. Lord Balfour was again appointed Lord President of the Council. Indeed, it seemed as if, with advancing years, his position in the Government had become more indispensable to the country. This tendency was not confined to politics. In literature and science also, his influence was felt throughout the country. And even in politics his influence was no longer confined to his own party. The war had a wonderful effect—bringing out into bold relief the qualities of his character, and making it gratifying to find how men who had been the centres of bitter controversies in their day won the affection and respect of those who had often argued against them.

Lord Balfour was a conspicuous example of this tendency. Though his loyalty to Conservative principles never wavered, he became more and more a national institution, and was regarded with affectionate esteem even by those who differed from him most strongly in political faith.

Many an eloquent were the tributes paid him on his eightieth birthday, July 25, 1928. Congratulatory messages came to him from all quarters. One came from the Duke of Devon's Queen's behalf as well as his own; one from Princess Mary, one from the Duke of Connaught. On the eve of the day the British Academy, of which he was president, gave a dinner at the home in Burlington Gardens. A luncheon was held afterward at the Prince of Wales Hotel, Piccadilly, at which the Prince of Wales presided and proposed Lord Balfour as the guest of honor. The evening was given over with humor and affection.

On the day itself, in the Speaker's Courtyard at the Houses of Parliament, Mr. Baldwin presented him with an expression of esteem, a mark of the esteem and affection in which he was held by all political parties. Speeches of congratulation were also made by Mr. Lloyd George and Right Hon. J. H. C. ...

But indeed Lord Balfour's youthfulness of spirit was one of the most remarkable features of his old age. In his eightieth year he contributed an introductory essay to a popular edition of Walter Bagehot's famous book, "The English Constitution."

It was remarkable to see a man of his years and labors undertaking a pilgrimage to Palestine in 1925 to show his sympathy with the Jewish National Movement with which his name had become inseparably connected.

It was not till 1929 that time really seemed to begin to tell on Lord Balfour. His wonderful rally in 1926 had said "I am dying," and in 1929 he reached the time of life when he would have to give up gold and take to tinsel. As a matter of fact, he did exactly that. He died on 26th June 1930, but he had abandoned no post in the White House, and the announcement of his death was made at his London house, 4 Carlton Gardens, in which Lord Palmerston had lived, and which Lord Balfour had made his home for the last sixty years. There was an indication that he felt compelled more and more to limit his

Atheist Paper Of Russia Urges Demonstrations

Moscow, March 18.—In an effort to counteract the Pope's prayers on behalf of Christian Russia, Wednesday, "The Godless One," official Soviet atheist organ, yesterday ordered all atheists to mobilize their strength on that day for massed demonstrations against religion and foreign intervention.

Declaring Pope Pius had taken advantage of religious fanaticism for the purpose of inciting "the backward masses against the Soviet Union," this anti-religious publication, which has nation-wide circulation, used particularly abusive and violent language in criticizing the Pope.

The paper declared hooligan bands were being organized in Italy, Poland, Bulgaria and other countries for an attack on the Soviet Union and that the Pope was standing at the head of a crusade of capital against the Soviet proletarian republic. "He is assisted by Jewish rabbis, orthodox priests, Baptists and evangelists," said the paper.

CANADA TO HAVE NEW ZEALAND TRADE PACT

Commons Approves Government's Plan to Negotiate Agreement

Ottawa, March 19.—The House of Commons late yesterday evening passed the Liberal sub-amendment to a motion to go into supply, thereby sustaining the government's stand with respect to the present trade arrangement with New Zealand. The vote on the sub-amendment stood ninety-five yeas and fifty-seven nays.

The original motion was to go into supply. Then the Conservatives moved an amendment and had it been passed it would have been a vote of want of confidence in the government. Then the Liberal sub-amendment was moved and this was carried.

IN COMMITTEE
Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Finance, moved the House immediately resolve itself into a committee of supply.

Mr. Bennett, Conservative leader, contended the original committee of supply had been destroyed and the government must give notice of a motion to create the House into such a committee again.

Speaker Lemieux, however, ruled a notice was not necessary. This motion carried.

GARDINER AMENDMENT
This was followed by another motion by Mr. Dunning that the Speaker leave the chair and the House resolve itself into committee of supply. At this juncture, Robert Gardiner, U.F.A. leader, rose to speak. He intimated he intended to move an amendment concerning the Canadian-Australian Trade Treaty, but had not reached it when the House rose at 11 p.m.

Mr. Gardiner probably will resume his speech Thursday.

Mr. Gardiner, when he arose shortly before the division last night, said that the Conservative amendment nor the Liberal sub-amendment was to the satisfaction of his corner of the House. The change in the rules permitting sub-amendments to a motion to go into supply had been made to give third groups in the House a right to move an amendment to any amendment with which the government was faced. The government, he added, by moving a sub-amendment had prevented the third group from expressing its views.

VICTORY FOR GOVERNMENT
A straight division between the two major parties resulted, with the Liberal Progressive, Independents and B. Adair, Labor, Calgary East, supporting the administration.

This debate revolved around the trade agreement under which Australian butter entered Canada at one cent a pound duty instead of a general rate of four cents.

The Canadian Government later extended the same benefit to New Zealand under an order-in-council.

The debate started March 4, when Mark Senn, Conservative, Haldimand, Ont., moved an amendment to the motion to go into supply that in the opinion of the House the order-in-council extending the trade benefits to New Zealand "should be rescinded forthwith and immediate steps taken to negotiate a treaty with that Dominion on fair and equitable terms."

DIRECT NEGOTIATIONS
On the Friday following P. F. Casgrain, chief Liberal whip, at the request of the government, moved a sub-amendment that the order-in-council should be "superseded as soon as possible by a treaty with that Dominion (New Zealand), and that immediate steps should be taken to negotiate such a treaty."

The difference between the two amendments was that the Conservative amendment would have taken immediate steps to terminate the present pact as far as it applied to New Zealand, whereas the Liberal sub-amendment would leave the situation as it is until a new treaty could be negotiated directly with that Dominion.

NEW SCHOOL TAX STATED

Personal Property in Outside Districts to Pay Two Mills

Amendments to the School Act introduced in the Legislature to-day by Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, set out the new tax on personal property outside school tax districts at two mills on the dollar.

The tax will also apply on personal property within school districts where the school is closed. The purpose of the plan is to make persons outside school districts pay something towards the cost of this service. The new tax is designed to take the cost of the rebates to farmers previously announced by Mr. Hinchliffe and expected to total about $200,000 a year.

WINNIPEG WANTS NEW RAIL LINK

Winnipeg, March 17.—The Manitoba Government will present a resolution to the Legislature shortly favoring the speedy completion of the Mafeking cut-off, to provide Winnipeg with more direct connection with the Hudson Bay Railway and Churchill, its port.

Announcement of the forthcoming resolution was made in the Legislature yesterday by Premier John Bracken.

The proposed cut-off, one of many proposed routes for a short-line from Winnipeg to the bay, would be from Mafeking to Freshford, Man., and would shorten the distance to Churchill by sixty-four miles. Estimated cost of construction is placed at $2,775,000.

TWO FACE TRIAL FOR COUNTERFEIT CHEQUE CRIMES

Detroit, March 19.—John B. Gest, awaiting trial here, has confessed that he and another man plaited the United States from coast to coast with $100,000 in counterfeit travelers' cheques against the Mellon National Bank of Pittsburgh.

This was announced by Ralph E. Baker, assistant prosecutor, who said the other man was Roy Harper, now under arrest in Mexico City, and that a warrant would be asked here for Harper.

Gest's confession as related by Baker was that Harper, after Gest's release from jail in San Francisco a year ago, made the cheques and traveled by motor car all the way to New York, cashing them along the route.

Gest had a petcock in his automobile gasoline tank which was operated from the seat, whereby he could dump a supply of gasoline soon after its purchase. He would then buy a new supply and cash a new cheque at the next station.

QUEBEC M.P.P. INVITES HOUSE TO FIGHT HIM

But Members Do Not Take Up Challenge of W. Tremblay, Maisonneuve

Quebec, March 19.—William Tremblay, Conservative member for Maisonneuve in the Quebec Legislature, in Assembly yesterday evening challenged any one or all of the other members to come forward and fight him, and when no one took the offer he declared they were cowards.

The incident followed a clash between Alms Guertin, Conservative, Hull, and Hon. J. L. Perron, Minister of Agriculture, while the House was sitting in committee and discussing the Co-operatives Bill.

GRANTS AND INSPECTIONS
Mr. Guertin had objected previously to a clause in the bill that provides the Minister may inspect books of a co-operative that gets a Government grant. Mr. Perron said the clause was to remove Government control and at present he might inspect the books of any co-operative.

Following further exchanges, Mr. Tremblay rose and said:

"We are sovereigns in this House and are not ready to be dictated to by anyone," he declared.

He withdrew the remark when Mr. Perron raised a point of order.

It was not long before the chairman called him to order as he continued to speak on the subject.

FRANKNESS INVITED
"Have we come to the point where we cannot speak any more in this House, but the Minister alone can say what he likes?" demanded Mr. Tremblay.

"There is to be no justice in this House," Mr. Chairman, declare it frankly and I will sit down."

He was told to discuss the clause alone.

Mr. Tremblay then raised his voice a note higher. "For too long you have tried to crush us in this House because of your great majority," he said.

"There were cries of 'order, order,'" he shouted. "I don't care about this cry of order," he shouted. "There are enough of you here to crush me in front of me the whole lot of you, one after another. You are too cowardly. For too long you have been trying to crush me and especially since the Minister of Agriculture has come into this Assembly. He tries to act like a man and I will sit down."

"Order, order," came from all parts of the House.

"Order as much as you please, but this is going too far," said Mr. Tremblay. "Let them bring a man here one with courage. I am not afraid of saying what I think. I do not act as a serpent."

He sat down and there was silence for a few minutes before the House resumed the discussion.

POPE PRAYS FOR CHRISTIANS OF SOVIET RUSSIA

found impression on the throng inside the Basilica.

The regular choir, composed of Seminary students of many nations, first sang the "Miserere." Then, after a pause, the Russian choir chanted without accompaniment hymns asking God for help after having been driven out of their own country.

The Pontiff entered St. Peter's shortly after 10 a.m. and received a tremendous ovation. A score of cardinals accompanied him to the foot of the altar, approached him one by one and kissed his ring. They then took seats in two rows facing down the nave.

VOICE IS CLEAR
His Holiness wore a white chasuble studded with gold. He recited the mass in an exceptionally clear voice, his "credo" being heard for a great distance. He was served by a deacon, a subdeacon and two assistants.

During the ceremony he stood at the altar—known as the Baldachino—directly over the tomb of the martyred St. Peter. Its position enabled him to look out over the heads of the throng.

At the foot of the altar there stood a platform of Noble Guards, wearing helmets, heavy blue tunics and light blue trousers. Near the altar was a tribune of the diplomatic corps facing the throne chair placed at the foot of the altar for the Pontiff.

Many plain clothes men circulated around the cathedral to prevent any incident. The cathedral doors were closed after the Pope had entered.

M.P.'S RETURN TO DEBATE ON DIVORCE BILL

Commons Restores Woods-worth Measure For Ontario Courts to List For Vote

Then Amendment Is Moved By Private Member Deploing Increase in Divorces

Ottawa, March 19.—Parliament has resumed the bill to establish divorce courts in Ontario. Twice yesterday the subject was under discussion in the House of Commons. Shortly after the opening in the afternoon, a motion by William Irvine, U.F.A. Wets-kiwin, to restore the measure to the order paper, was carried by a vote of 104 for and 87 against. Yesterday evening the bill came up during private members' hours and met with an amendment.

The amendment was moved by Thomas McMillan, Liberal South Huron, Ontario, to the effect that "this House views with alarm the spreading and increasing of divorce and divorce applications in Canada, and desiring to provide additional means of obtaining divorce, the House would favor the encouragement and carrying on of a campaign of education for the purpose of impressing upon the hearts and minds of the Canadian people the sacredness of the matrimonial tie and the permanent stability of the Canadian home."

Several members spoke last night before the private members' hour expired. The bill probably will be heard of again this week.

The Woods-worth private bill to provide divorce courts for Ontario, whose cases are now put through Parliament in the form of bills, was defeated last week by one vote, 78 to 79. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Irvine moved it be restored to the order paper for second reading, the motion carrying by a majority of seventeen.

HOW LEADERS VOTED
As is usual on divorce measures, the vote of the Liberal members showed a divergence of opinion in all parties. Members of the Cabinet in favor of Mr. Irvine's motion to restore the bill to the order paper were: Hon. C. A. Dunning, Hon. Charles Stewart, Hon. J. H. King and Hon. W. D. Euler. Those opposed included Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Hon. P. J. Veniot, Hon. J. C. Elliott, Hon. Fernand Bureau, Hon. P. J. A. Carlin, Hon. Lucien Cannon and Hon. Peter Heenan. Premier King was not present when the division took place.

Conservative front-benchers who favored the Irvine motion were: Hon. R. B. Bennett, R. S. White, Major-General A. D. McRae, Hon. George B. J. Jones, Hon. E. B. Ryan, Hon. H. H. Stevens and Hon. J. D. Chaplin. Opposed to it were Sir George Perley, J. A. Arthur and Hon. J. A. Macdonald.

Liberal-Progressive members, with the exception of A. L. Reuben, supported the motion, as did Progressives and members of the Labor group. Members of the U.F.A. group voted for the motion with the exception of A. M. Carmichael.

IRVINE'S ARGUMENT
In supporting his motion, Mr. Irvine advanced the view that the vote taken last Friday night was unsatisfactory to the member bringing the bill, and that Ontario should have a divorce court. He pointed to the fact that only 157 of the 246 members in the House of Commons had voted on the Woods-worth bill.

LAPORTE SPEAKS
Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, thought the present motion was "unusual." If technically, he continued, Mr. Irvine had the right to move to reconsider the bill, then assuming the measure was again defeated, another motion for reconsideration might be made and this practice continued during the session.

"I venture to say none of the members who voted either for or against the bill doubted he was voting for or against the principle of the bill," said Mr. Lapointe.

"It would be a very bad precedent to bring back bills after they had once been defeated on second reading," he said.

This was the first time since 1892 that such a course as Mr. Irvine was proposing had been followed in the House.

Sir John Thompson, when Premier, opposed the principle of having a second vote on a bill for second reading.

"I do not think the argument of my Hon. Friend is sufficiently strong," Mr. Lapointe proceeded.

He recalled previous divisions in the House where a small majority only prevailed. A majority opinion, he said, must prevail. Sometimes a candidate was defeated on a majority of one.

The candidate, he remarked, asked for a recount, but "hardly a new election."

Mr. Lapointe went on: "This motion is carried out by a majority of one, and apart from that is bad sportsmanship."

CAHAN'S VIEWS
C. H. Cahan, Conservative, St. Lawrence-St. George, Montreal, followed.

"The mover of the resolution is entirely in order," said Mr. Cahan. "As to the expediency of the motion, however, I wish to take up the time of this House for a few minutes."

"I do not feel to-day that I, representing the Province of Ontario, should measure like this affecting another province, unless there is an expressed opinion from that province," Mr. Cahan said. The Legislature of that province, he proceeded, had not the right to express an opinion on the bill, but the elected members of the House from that province had.

J. S. Woods-worth, Labor, Winnipeg North Centre, protested Mr. Cahan was out of order. But Speaker Lemieux ruled Mr. Cahan might proceed.

Mr. Cahan's objection to placing this bill on the order paper a second time was that since the representatives from Ontario had voted against the bill, it should not be called upon again to consider it until there was a very clear indication from the Province of Ontario that it wanted such action.

BRITISH M.P.'S LEARN OF WORK OF AIR FORCE

By GEORGE HAMBLETON,
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

London, March 19.—Beneath the matter-of-fact exterior of the speech of Hon. Frederick Montague, Under-Secretary for Air, when he presented the air estimates in the Commons yesterday, lay romance.

One saw the Royal Air Force assisting the Sudanese police in the arrest of a Nubian headman who had defied the government. Certain tribesmen had looted caravans on the road from Khartoum to Aden. Tribal allowances were suspended, but the looting continued. So British aircraft dropped stern warnings on the roofs of tribal villages and the looting stopped.

Nor was the R.A.F.'s work entirely on the military side. In India, among other places, the R.A.F. conveyed emergency medical assistance in urgent cases. The men engaged in rescue work on the coast of the Middle East. They carried warnings to areas threatened by floods and participated in a campaign against locusts in the Sudan.

At home the Air Force co-operated in fisheries protection off the east coast. In last December's gales the men assisted in the search for overdue fishing vessels.

Aircraft, so the report revealed, flew across Africa from Egypt to the Gulf Coast and return, a distance of 8,400 miles. Four machines of the R.A.F. undertook the flight from Cairo to the Cape, down the length of Africa. After a journey of 11,200 miles they arrived back at Cairo—five minutes behind the scheduled time that had been figured out weeks before.

TORTURED BY ARTHRITIS

Montreal War Veteran's Terrible Ordeal

BUT KRUSCHEN
BROUGHT RELIEF

Here is a dramatic story of how a Canadian War Veteran underwent the terrible tortures of Arthritis and Neuritis. Faced by a lifetime of agony he tried Kruschen on the advice of a friend. Relief came from the first bottle—but read his own story—

244, St. James Street, Montreal.

"I have been a great sufferer with Neuritis and Arthritis since the late Great War and I have suffered tortures. I was recommended by a friend of mine some time ago to try Kruschen Salts and the first bottle did me the world of good. I have been taking it continually and I am glad to say that now I am able to get to my work in comfort. No sufferer should be without Kruschen Salts. They are a boon and a blessing to all and worth their weight in gold. I strongly recommend them to all sufferers."

F. J. FRENCH.

Arthritis and Neuritis—like Rheumatism—are caused by excess deposits of Uric Acid crystals in the body. Kruschen is Uric Acid's deadliest foe. These wonderful Salts contain Uric Acid solvents—which dissolve the painful crystals and sweep them from the body. Furthermore, Kruschen prevents them from forming again. That is why Rheumatism and allied complaints cannot exist in the system which gets the "little daily miracle."

FREE TRIAL OFFER

If you have never tried Kruschen—try it now at our expense. We have distributed a great many special "GIANT" packages which make it easy for you to prove our claim for yourself. Ask your druggist for the new "GIANT" 75c. package.

This consists of our regular 75c. bottle together with a separate trial bottle—sufficient for about one week. Open the trial bottle first, put it to the test, and then, if not entirely convinced that Kruschen does everything we claim it to do, the regular bottle is still as good as new. Take it back. Your druggist is authorized to return your 75c. immediately and without question. You have tried Kruschen free, at our expense. What could be fairer?

Growing Livestock Industry Building Up B.C. Agriculture

Progress Made in Province in Last Two Years Reviewed in Report of Deputy Minister of Agriculture; Room for Great Expansion in Sheep Industry.

The livestock industry in the province of British Columbia has made a very marked advance since 1927, according to the report of the Deputy Minister of Agriculture in summarizing the work of the department during the year 1929.

Two years ago there were 151,870 dairy cattle, as compared with 177,291 in the year 1929. Similarly, there has been an appreciable increase in the number of beef cattle from 212,493 in 1927 to 239,155 in 1929.

"The importance of the livestock industry," says the summary issued by the department, "is being kept before the farmers, who are beginning to appreciate the fact that no permanent system of agriculture can be established on an economical or efficient basis without the solid foundation of farm animals to uphold the superstructure, which takes in many specialties and cash crops."

SHEEP INDUSTRY

"In referring to the sheep industry, the deputy minister indicates that there is plenty of room for expansion.

that there has been an increase from 136,132 sheep in 1927 to 206,532 in 1929. Notwithstanding this, the importations of mutton and lamb, as well as other meat products, indicate that there is plenty of room for further expansion.

"The wool clip of the province increased from 723,000 pounds, worth $166,000 in 1927, to 1,162,897 pounds, valued at $232,539, in 1929.

"An appreciable gain also was made in the number of swine kept in the province, as is evidenced by the production in 1927 of 2,560,368 pounds of pork and pork products, as compared with a production of 3,875,000 pounds in 1929.

"Dairy products show an increase from $12,681,000 worth in 1927 to a value of $13,300,000 in 1929.

"Eggs to the number of 397 carloads were exported last year, including a shipment of 481,540 dozen eggs, which were marketed in the United Kingdom. These arrived on the British market in good condition, and a satisfactory trade is being developed.

MARKETS BRANCH

"Dealing with the work of the re-organized markets branch of the department, the deputy minister points out that, while in the past the marketing of fruits and vegetables received almost the exclusive attention of the department, the marketing services in connection with general agricultural products, have been very greatly increased.

"It is pointed out that grapes grown in the Okanagan Valley have been shipped in large quantities to a winery on Vancouver Island, where they were received with favor, and a large proportion of the annual crop for a period of years has been contracted for.

"Extension of market apples through prolonging the period of distribution has been successfully demonstrated by the storage of a number of carloads of apples taken out at different times throughout the storage period. In this way it has been demonstrated that varieties which in the past were marketed in excess during the fall and early winter can be preserved until the market is open for them later in the year.

"Three processes have been tried out for the preservation of berries so that they can be carried in the fresh fruit form until the fall and winter.

B.C. TOBACCO

"Encouragement for tobacco growers is found in the fact that tobacco leaf grown in the Okanagan Valley and the Sumas of the lower Fraser Valley is being blended and finds a ready sale on the retail markets of the Coast cities at remunerative prices. The deputy minister comments that this is a very satisfactory situation as compared with the conditions which existed during the year 1928 to 1929, when tobacco growers found it impossible to market the crops grown by them.

"Another venture has been made during the year 1929 by the introduction of fish meal to the dairymen, swine breeders and poultrymen. The report points out that, while in 1927 17,000 tons of fish meal was manufactured and the bulk exported, 20,000 tons have been produced during the year 1929. The Department of Agriculture has lent its assistance in stimulating a local demand for fish meal, and as a result of such efforts approximately 4,000 tons have been fed to livestock in the province during 1929, as compared with 1,000 tons in 1928.

"In referring to the success of British Columbia exhibitors, the report draws the attention to the capture of prizes by entries of Striking field peas grown at Ladner and exhibited at the Chicago International Hay and Grain Show.

POULTRY CLUBS

"More than 1,000 boys and girls in 105 poultry clubs raised creditable flocks of poultry as the result of the efforts of departmental officials. There were also 112 boys and girls in calf clubs and 196 young folks participated in raising 378 hogs. There were sheep clubs in six districts with a total membership of twenty-nine, to whom 262 breeding ewes were supplied for the establishment of farm flocks."

SAANICH WANTS DIAL PHONES AT CITY RATES

Council Will Ask Abolition of Colquitz and Albion Exchanges

Keating Subscribers Too Distant For New Service, Reeve States

Albion and Colquitz telephone exchanges should be abolished and the subscribers included in the installation of automatic telephones being provided in Victoria, the Saanich Council last night unanimously agreed, and a deputation will wait on the British Columbia Telephone Company to urge that the new automatic system be extended to Saanich.

Reeve Crouch stated that he was confident that the change would be accorded the two Saanich exchanges adjacent to the city boundary, and that the monthly rate given Victoria would be made available to Albion and Colquitz subscribers.

KEATING UNCHANGED

He stated that he had made tentative inquiries of officials of the company as to the possibility of including Keating exchange in the new dial system, but had been assured that the exchange was too far away.

PROTEST VOICED

Councillor Hagan said Keating residents were in arms against the recent increase in charges to several subscribers who have been using the telephone for years. He stated that the exchange had been moved twice since first established in a central location, making in the western area subscribers more than three miles from the present location of the exchange. Such a matter, in his opinion, was proper for submission to a public utilities commission, if such a body existed.

Reeve Crouch suggested that the dissatisfied subscribers should appeal to the Board of Railway Commissioners.

There are two sorts of shrines and sanctuaries as we pass through life. The one sort represents a retreat from the world of ordinary daily experience—a passing from the scene of toil and conflict to some quiet or distant place where alone, or in fellowship with others, the emphasis is put upon prayer and devotion as a matter of reflection and of inner experience.

The other shrines and sanctuaries are found along the daily way, often in the very busiest places where it might be assumed that there would be no time for prayer or devotion. Here and there, in downtown portions of our largest cities, are churches almost hidden under the shadow of towering business and financial institutions that by their persistent presence remind the way-farer that religion is still a reality even in the busiest thoroughfares and occupation of a restless and hurrying age.

Both these sanctuaries have their place, nor are they to be thought of as mutually exclusive. The sanctuary of the quiet place where the soul receives inner preparation ought to make the sanctuary of the busy environment all the more real. The great thing is that in our lives we shall have both sanctuaries, that religion shall not be divorced from life nor life from religion, but that our daily lives shall be the symbol and expression of the inner reality of our faith and consecration.

The religion of Jesus is not a religion of some sphere remote from life. It is the religion of human relationships, of brotherly love and kindness, of responsive attitudes and of mutual aid. It is the religion in which the creative spirit is ever at work building up new structures of character and service. When our religion ceases to be vital and practical, in its outward expression, we may be sure that it has lost its inner reality.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

The effect of cooking on vegetables has been thoroughly studied by a number of investigators in nutrition, and the results are definite and of much value to housewives.

The method of cooking, the amount of surface exposed during cooking, the care observed in cooking and serving and the manner in which vegetables are cut for cooking, as well as the amount of water used, have much to do with the loss of flavor, minerals and food value in the cooking of vegetables.

It has been found that the mineral loss for vegetables, classed among "roots and tubers," is less than for those known as "stems and leaves." Cabbage, celery, beet greens and onions are the heaviest losers of minerals during cooking. While spinach loses none of its calcium, it does lose much of its iron content unless properly cooked. Practically all the mineral lost from vegetables remains in the water in which they were cooked.

HOW TO PRESERVE MINERALS

Baking is the best method of cooking to preserve all the minerals. Next comes steaming or pressure cooking. The method which takes the skill of the cook is the one of cooking in as small an amount of water as is possible to prevent burning until the vegetable is tender and letting the water cook away until only enough is left to moisten the vegetable for serving. This method closely parallels steaming, for most of the extracted nutrients cling to the vegetable.

Both flavor and mineral content are retained if vegetables are cooked whole and in their "jackets" whenever it's at all possible. The more cut surface that is exposed during cooking, the greater the loss of flavor and minerals. Cutting vegetables lengthwise rather than crosswise decreases the losses.

VEGETABLES MUSTN'T SOAK

If vegetables are allowed to "soak" in water for some time before cooking, both flavor and minerals are lost. Putting vegetables on to cook in cold water also is detrimental.

The custom of adding soda to preserve the color of vegetables is not wise, for its presence has a destructive effect on the vitamins—particularly vitamin C—and it tends to break the cells of vegetables, making them mushy and causing loss of fuel value.

Butterless, eggless and milkless cake will provide a boon when the "cup-board is bare" and something must be made for luncheon or dinner. The proper name for this cake is "raisin cake," which is absolutely unrefined and enlightens no one on the subject of the cake's economical ingredients.

Raisin Cake
Two cups seedless raisins, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 cup water, 1-2 cup lard, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon cloves, 1 teaspoon nutmeg, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, 1-2 teaspoon baking powder, 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Put sugar, water, raisins, lard and salt in sauce pan. Bring to the boiling point and boil three minutes. Cool. When cool, add soda dissolved in 2 teaspoons hot water. Beat well and add flour mixed and sifted with spices and baking powder. Mix thoroughly and add vanilla. Turn into an oiled and floured loaf cake pan and bake 40 minutes in a moderate oven.

The following icing uses no eggs and is creamy and soft:
One cup confectioner's sugar, 2 teaspoons powdered cocoa, 2 dessert spoons cold coffee infusion, 2 tablespoons butter, 1-4 teaspoon vanilla.
Mix and sift sugar and cocoa. Cream butter and gradually beat in part of sugar. Add one spoonful of coffee, vanilla and remaining sugar. Mix thoroughly, adding coffee to make of spreading consistency. Spread on cake while it is slightly warm.

FINER NATIONAL SPIRIT URGED

Hon. R. L. Maitland Tells Club Women of Canada's Proud Record

The need for the awakening of a Canadian consciousness, for the upholding of Canadian ideals and for a proper appreciation of the men and women who had helped to mould the destinies of Canada, was urged in a fine address before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon by Hon. R. L. Maitland, minister without portfolio in the Provincial Government.

TO OFFSET U.S. INFLUENCE

Taking as his subject "The Spirit of Canada," the speaker paid a notable tribute to the pioneers of this country and urged the women to inculcate in their children a respect and reverence for those pioneers, to offset the tendency to glorify the heroes of the United States, a tendency largely brought about through the influence of the radio; the moving picture and the flood of American literature which sweeps into this Dominion. He had a great admiration for the American people, but felt that the first duty of Canadians was to put their own great men and women on a pedestal and keep them there, for all to look up to.

CONFEDERATION IDEALS

The minister reviewed the early history of Canada and the steps leading up to Confederation. From the landmark might be traced the beginning of Canada as it existed to-day. The men who had carried through this great compact had buried all political jealousies, all party animosities, in their desire to stand side by side in carrying through the unification of Canada from Atlantic to Pacific.

"We in Canada should be proud of our record. We have shown that self-government is a success, we have shown, long before Geneva, that it is possible by arbitration to avoid war, for with a borderline 3,000 miles in length we have settled every argument, with one exception, by arbitration. And the way blazed by Canada has been by marriage with him was terminated in 1929.

CANNOT GET HUSBAND IN SPIRIT WORLD

Mrs. Houdini, Widow of "Handcuff King" Says Communication Impossible

Miami, Fla., March 19.—Mrs. Harry Houdini, widow of the internationally known magician, to-day said she had abandoned hope of communicating with her husband in the spirit world.

"I had hoped and prayed and worked to get a message from Houdini," she said, "and several of the great spiritualistic advocates declare I have succeeded. But it is not true. The silence is impenetrable. There is only a void."

"If I had succeeded in communicating with Houdini I would shout it from the housetops and would carry a message of hope to all burdened souls, but I have none. There is nothing there."

When Houdini died Mrs. Houdini had formed a pact by which he was to communicate with her, if possible, from the spirit world. Numerous attempts to convince Mrs. Houdini that her husband was communicating through a medium were made, she said, but she steadfastly denied that any of the mediums presented, the clue by which she was to recognize a legitimate message.

Messrs. George and Bill Parker also delighted the guests with music on their saxophones, and Mr. E. Callahan played the harp. Games and dancing were also indulged in, and a very happy time was brought to an end by the singing of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Callahan, Mr. and Mrs. W. Under the auspices of the Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion, an enjoyable dance was held on St. Patrick's Day in the Forestry Hall. Some 200 participated and spent a most enjoyable evening, dancing to the strains of the latest dance hits presented by a four-piece orchestra under the direction of J. Findler. During the interval a comic stunt was carried out representing Pat and his donkey, characterized by Buster Brown and W. J. Cobbett, which produced a great deal of fun. Miss Mona Jewell with the assistance of a pupil contributed some fine character dances. The grand march for the selection of prime winners produced some good contestants and resulted in the winning of the first prize for the best Irish costume by Mrs. E. Merriam, the second by Miss Audrey Charlton and the third by Miss E. Sullivan. Miss Pennington easily won the prize for the best comic dress. Mr. F. M. Eldridge was the judge. The Women's Auxiliary was responsible for the excellent catering. The whole affair was carried out by a joint committee of the auxiliary and the entertainment committee of the branch under the chairmanship of Comrade T. Davies.

Mrs. A. G. Lothman of Vancouver reached Victoria yesterday and registered at the Empress Hotel.

The above was the line-up announced by Bob Shawkey, manager of the New York Yankees, for the opening game of the season between the New York Yankees and the Philadelphia Athletics, on April 15.

Many of the old faces are there, the men who played through the world championship games before the Macknagles walked with the pennant last year, but there is new life and blood in the organization. Some vital parts have been replaced with fresh strength. It is a team that looks formidable.

Dusty Cooke, minor league star, chosen to fill the shoes of temperamental Bob Meusel, has caught the eye of the experts by the manner in which he handles himself at the plate. He follows through on his swing, similar in many respects to Ruth. His American Association average last season was .336. Manager Shawkey is taking a gamble on the Philadelphia boy to fill the left field job, but as Shawkey says, "You have to gamble when you're trying to build."

Another gamble is at third base. "Pooch" Coughlin, Tony Lazzeri is being displayed this year at third base, where he loves to be doing things, but the team corner will be looked after by Ben Chapman, recalled from St. Paul. He has been handling himself well during the spring workout, there being no flaw in his playing. He was a .336 hitter in the American Association and is looked to be a .300 hitter for the Yankees.

Shawkey certainly has a number of husky looking pitching recruits. Of all the pitchers at Shawkey's command only one, American Felt, is under six feet in height. Felt is 5 feet 10 inches. The Carner of baseball, is the tallest of the crowd, at 6 feet 6 inches. The latter comes from the University of Michigan and shows promise. Another collegian among the pitchers being brilliant promise and recalls a memory. His name is Bob Walsh, from Notre Dame, and when he casts that slinker up to the boys, fond memories of old Ed Walsh, of Chicago White Sox glory, will be revived.

Paschal, Durocher, Meusel, Crabb and others have vanished from the roster. But the material at hand looks to be healthier. There appears a lot more fight. Men are struggling for positions.

On the bench, in all likelihood, will be two boys from California, ready to fill in capably if one of the infielders should falter. They are Lyn Lary and Jimmy Reese. Shawkey was asked the other day how many infielders he would carry. "Six," he replied quickly, "and I've got them." He meant Gehrig, Lazzeri, Koenig, Chapman, Lary and Reese. "I've got one hard job, however," said Bob. "There are nineteen pitching recruits and I've got to send ten of them to the somewhere else. Just take a look at the catchers, too. Dickey and Bengough are enough for any man's team. Karlson, the recruit from Springfield, can play the outfield if we need him. Bubblers Hargrave can fill in at any time. I think we have the finest bunch of new men I have seen in years."

The summer race meeting that will open at the Aves Caliente track on July 4 and run until Labor Day, September 1, is going to attract a great many of the best stables now quartered at the Mexican track. A partial survey among the horsemen showed that the following will positively be "among those present" when the opening "hugle blow" is Alvarado Stable, R. C. Stable (W. H. Hoffman), H. C. "Curley" Brown, Jim Parsons, Aves Caliente Stable, Baron Lenz, L. F. Whitehead, Elmer O'Connell, E. Stiebel, Meadow Brook Stable, Northway Stable, J. W. Marshbank, La Brea Stable, Bill Hartman, Lem Allen, C. B. Irwin, George Drumheller and A. L. Jones.

DOUG TAYLOR IS LATEST TRACK STAR

Former Victoria Boy in Sensational Performance at San Jose College Meet

Without Previous Experience He Finishes High Man; Called "Galileo Greyhound"

A native son of Victoria, Doug Taylor has established a great record for himself as a sprinter in California, according to word received in this city to-day. Doug is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Taylor of San Francisco, formerly of Victoria. While living here Doug was a pupil at the St. James Douglas School, and is very well known in the city, making frequent visits to his sister, Mrs. Arthur Dowell, 1265 Oscar Street.

Doug is at present attending the State Teachers' College at San Jose, and is taking a physical education course. At a recent interclass meet Taylor proved the sensation, annexing high point honors by winning the 100-yard dash and quarter mile, and placing third in the broad jump. Taylor, by his performance, led the freshmen to a one-point victory over the sophomores.

HIGH-POINT MAN
Without any previous experience on the cinder path, Taylor, who is being heralded as "The Galileo Greyhound," stole the show, according to an article appearing in a San Jose newspaper. Taylor also ran as anchor man on his class relay team and during the meet collected twelve points for high jump. Making his track debut in the century sprint, the first event on the program, Taylor defeated three veterans, to take first place. He completed the distance in 10.1 on a soft track, with adverse wind which is a creditable performance. In the quarter-mile Taylor had things his own way from gun to tape, taking the lead from the start. Taylor increased to twelve yards over the second man at the final line.

Coach Arian Cakelard regards Taylor as the greatest freshman "find" in San Jose state history.

MONTEREY WINS WAY TO FINAL FOR RUGBY CUP

Defeats Boys' Central 3-0 at Oak Bay Park; Cook Scores Lone Try

Oak Bay School to Meet University Boys in Final For Curtis Cup Friday

Crashing over with the ball, five minutes from the end of the first half, Cook, fighting Monterey forward, gave his team its lone and winning tally in the Curtis Cup rugby fixture played at Oak Bay Park against Boys' Central yesterday. The try, which followed a combination play in which Robbins starred, put the Oak Bay boys into the final for the silverware. They will make their last bid for honors on Friday against the University School at the Willows.

Despite the strong wind which blew across the field throughout the game, both teams turned in good performances.

From the kick-off, Central rushed into Monterey's ground, but lost the ball. The teams fought at mid-field for ten minutes without being able to break away. Robbins finally secured the ball and raced to the city school's ten-yard line. Play centred in that part of the field as the Oak Bay boys tried hard to force their way over. However, the Central defence held firm and finally cleared the ball with a three-quarter run. Davis secured at centre and nearly broke through. He was called back for offside and lost the ground he had made. Davis again broke away. He was brought down by Webster. Noakes secured and ran play to centre before he was tackled by Carlow, who returned the ball to Central's end with a nice punt.

Again the Oak Bay boys pressed and all but got over from a line-out.

MONTEREY SCORES

With five minutes to go in the first half, Robbins secured the ball at mid-field and raced down the side to the city school's five-yard line. There he passed to Cook, who staggered across with two Central backs on top of him.

The kick for extra points failed.

In the second half Monterey tried hard to increase its lead and twice got over the Central line. However, the city boys touched the ball down and cleared with twenty-five yard kicks.

Central rallied halfway through the period, but failed to penetrate the Oak Bay defence.

As the game closed, Monterey was still on the attack, but could not break through the city's back division.

Webster played an outstanding game for Central, who staggered across and Davis were good for Monterey.

Reg. Wenman refereed.

The teams lined up as follows:

Monterey: Morton, Pope, Langdon, Le Poldier, Pangman, Fletcher, Shepherd, Langley, Todd, Robbins, Cook, Poynte, Davis, Williams and Carlow.

Boys' Central: Caird, Webster, Taylor, Noakes, Wallace, Ferguson, Barber, Gannon, Jackson, Miles and Thompson.

Dr. Paul Martin Beats Congor To Win Track Title

New York, March 19.—Switzerland's Great Olympic veteran, Dr. Paul Martin, won the United States 1,000-yard championship in the national A.A.U. indoor title games at Madison Square Garden yesterday evening, finishing three yards ahead of Ray Congor of the Illinois A.C., the defending titleholder.

Phil Edwards, negro internationalist, clung to his 600-yard title, beating out Eddie Bell, Newark A.C., Eddie Bice, Boston A.A., and Fred Pamphrey, New York University, in that order, in 1:13 8-10 seconds.

LAUNCH WARFARE ON ALL FOUL FIGHTING

New York Boxing Commission Decided to Hand Stiff Suspension to Offenders

Lou Magnolia Rebuked For Scott-Sharkey Fracas; McLannin's Bout Approved

New York, March 19.—Opening vigorous warfare on foul fighting, the New York State Athletic Commission decided yesterday that every boxer under its jurisdiction who commits a foul shall be suspended automatically for two months for the first offence, four months for the second, six months for the third, and shall be barred permanently after four offences. The new rule is to be effective immediately.

Under the New York state rules boxers who lose on a foul are paid only for the rounds they complete. It was further decided that any boxer licensed in this state, who competes elsewhere, and is found guilty of a foul, shall be suspended from boxing in this state.

As a further attempt to curb the foul epidemic, the commission emphasized the fact that a referee has the power to decide immediately whether a foul has been committed without stopping the fight to find out.

"This thing has gone far enough," Chairman Farley said. "Fouls and unsportsmanlike conduct of boxers are choking the boxing game to death."

HITS AT MAGNOLIA
Although the subject was not mentioned, Farley's attitude was considered a rebuke of Referee Lou Magnolia's action in the recent bout between Jack Sharkey and Phil Scott at Miami, where the New York referee called a halt for a full minute in the third round after Scott had claimed a foul.

The commission acted as drastically as possible in the only holdover for cases before it yesterday. Suspending Larry Johnson, a Chicago negro, and Henry Lamar of Washington, thirty days apiece for fouls. Johnson, who sank Maxie Rosenbloom March 16 with a low blow, forfeited $3,850 of his $9,872 purse on the round basis, and Lamar, who fouled Joe Banovic in the first round on the same card, received only $125 of a $1,250 guarantee.

The commission approved a welterweight match between Jimmy McLannin and Young Jack Thompson, of San Francisco, at Madison Square Garden, March 28.

Endurance Swim Mark Claimed By Argentine Star

Buenos Ayres, March 19.—What was claimed to be a world's record for endurance and permanency in water was established Monday by the Argentine swimmer, Pedroa Candiotti, who, in sixty-five hours and fifty-four minutes, swam downriver 290 kilometres, or about 240 miles.

That distance separates Goya and Santa Fe. Candiotti plunged into the water Saturday at 10:30 a.m. and arrived at Santa Fe at 4:40 a.m. Monday.

Maroons To Battle Boston As Ottawa Entertains Rangers

Two Top Teams Will Play Best Three Out of Five Games, While Ottawa-New York Will Be Home-and-home Series; Regular Schedule Wound Up Yesterday Evening; Chicago and Canadiens Cinch Second Places by Victories Over Toronto and Americans.

New York, March 19.—The series of the best three out of five games between the Boston Bruins and the Montreal Maroons for the league championship of the National Hockey League will open in Montreal to-morrow night. Two games will be played there before the teams move to Boston. The third place home-and-home series between the New York Rangers and Ottawa also opens to-morrow night. The first game will be played in Ottawa and the second in New York Sunday. The Canadiens and Chicago will play the first of their two games in Chicago Sunday and the second in Montreal next Tuesday.

COAST HOCKEY PLAY-OFFS TO START MONDAY

Vancouver Lions and Portland Bucks to Open Final Series at Vancouver

Winner of Three Games Will Be Declared Champs; Second Game on March 27

Vancouver, March 19.—The post-season play-off series for the championship of the Pacific Coast Hockey League between Vancouver and Portland will open here next Monday night. It was announced by Frank Patrick, league president, yesterday. Respective of which of the two teams finishes in first place in the final league standing table, which will be determined after Friday's scheduled games, the two clubs will open the series in Vancouver.

The second game of the series has been set for Portland on March 27. The date of the third game will not be set, however, until it is known which team will finish on the top rung in the final standing. The team finishing first will get the majority of the play-off contests on its home ice.

Even should Portland finish first in the final standings, there is some doubt as to whether the majority of games could be played in the Oregon city. The team's lease on the Coliseum expires March 31, and it is doubtful whether the series could be concluded by that date.

The league championship will go to the team that first wins three games in the final series or earns six points, figuring a win as two points and a tie as one-point.

Amateur Baseball Teams Open Season May 3

Thirty-game Series Adopted; Sons Play Jokers In Opener

Senior Amateur League Decides to Play League Games on Monday, Wednesday and Friday Nights; Will Use Play-off System Again This Season; Teams Will Use Old Diamond at Royal Athletic Park; Players Reinstated.

Adopting a thirty-game schedule with all fixtures scheduled on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights, the Victoria Senior Amateur Baseball League at their meeting yesterday evening at the Y.M.C.A. decided to usher in their 1930 season on Saturday, May 3, with the Sons of Canada and the Jokers the opposing clubs. The game will most likely commence at 3 o'clock, but who the umpire will be has not yet been decided.

The second game on the schedule will be played the following Monday night with the Eagles and the Elks as the contending clubs. The latter are the new club in the league this season. The Tillamooks, the fifth team, will not be in action in the two opening games.

Strange enough the same clubs that opened the season last year will again be accorded the honor. The Jokers and Sons also met in the final series last season to decide the championship. The Jokers winning out after a keen struggle with the Canadians.

All games will be played at the Royal Athletic Park and the delegates at yesterday evening's meeting decided to use the old diamond again this season. This decision was made in view of the stand taken by the park committee regarding the bicycle track and also the suggestion of the park heads to make an extra charge for those who desire to sit in the new grandstand. The second and third clubs will meet in a series, the winner to play the leading team in the final for the city championship. The final series will be the best three out of five games.

The question of the five players still under suspension was brought up again. A communication from the British Columbia Amateur Baseball Association was read stating that the provincial body had decided to refer the matter back to the local league for a decision. However, it was found that the players in question had turned in their written apologies and were therefore back in the good graces of the league. The players concerned were: Jack Bacon, Colin Campbell, Bill Holman, Orville Falconer and Steve Dune.

The managers of the various clubs reported great activity at yesterday evening's meeting. All the teams have signed the greater part of their players and will be ready when the dates for the opening games arrive.

OUR MAIL BAG

TO THE SPORTS EDITOR:—I agree with the writer in yesterday's issue of the Times regarding the welcome of the Glasgow Rangers visit. I would suggest that now is the time to prepare a team to meet the Rangers or any other which may visit our Dominion. The boys last year put up a wonderful exhibition, thanks to no doubt to the training and the trainer. He must have known his business because our boys certainly did put up a good game, and when you consider that the trainer is the man behind the guns, let us give him an opportunity to prove the material which we no doubt have here. Whoever picks the team should get busy right now.

What Price Speed?

By JIMMY THOMPSON

It may sound absurd but $3 a yard is what you have to pay to take a crack at the world's motor car speed title. At least, that is what Kaye Don, the famous English driver, estimates. Something else to remember is that "The Silver Bullet," Kaye Don's speed wagon, cost $20,000, and the life of the car is approximately 20,000 yards. Kaye Don's ambition is to gain not only a world's title but to maintain the prestige of the English motor mechanics in the world. "The Silver Bullet" has a twin-engine Sunbeam of 4,000 h.p., with ice-cooling, hydraulic clutch and brakes, and an air-brake. She has been designed for the one purpose of beating the world's land speed record, and has a power-weight ratio of two to one, which is the best ever reached by a designer. Kaye Don points out that there is no limit to the power that can be produced, but it is when we come to adapt that power that we are faced with limitations. For example, one of the problems that had to be confronted in the preparation of "The Silver Bullet," was the question of tires, and whether they were capable of that terrific speed. The stress that is imposed by such terrific wheel-revolutions in a speed dash of that kind is enormous. The main difficulty is that centrifugal force tends to make the compressed air rush upwards—and the covers must be of abnormal strength to resist this swirl of air. Then comes friction between the sand and tread. As the speed is increased so is the strain on them and in the future the big problem will be to counterbalance the friction stress.

FILLY WINNER ON BAD TRACK

Helen Dean Captures Musketeer Purse at Jefferson Park in Slow Time

New York, March 19.—Over the worst track of the season Helen Dean, from the stable of Kelly and Dean, won her first winter campaign yesterday in accounting for the Musketeer purse at Jefferson Park, New Orleans. So heavy was the going that it took the four-year-old filly 1:20 3-5 to cover the six furlongs. The winner paid $9.10 for a $2 mutual ticket.

A length and a half back at the finish came Mrs. Blanche Watson's Mexican Court, Frank Seromba's War Investigator, favorite, third.

My Brentwood Girl also made her debut into the winter winning column, carrying the silks of William Dwyer's Montalvo stud to victory in the Andrew Jackson claiming purse at St. John's Park, Florida. Despite the Dwyer filly had failed to win a race since June at Guelph, she was made favorite, paying $4.50 for a $2 straight certificate.

ART SHIRES IS WORRIED

Demand Satisfactory Contract From Chicago White Sox Within a Week

Chicago, March 19.—Charles Arthur Shires has sent an ultimatum to Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, demanding a satisfactory contract within a week.

If none is received by that time, Shires threatens to play semi-pro baseball either in Chicago or in Texas.

Meanwhile, the "Old Roman" appears to be biding his time and enjoying the pre-season success of Manager Donie Bush and his Shires-led team. He refuses to discuss the matter beyond the statement that Shires, who took more than a month to answer his last letter inquiring into his department during the last few months, will get an answer.

NINE SWIM MARKS PASS FROM BOOKS

Helene Madison Gives Sensational Performance to Better Six Records

Breaks All Marks From 200 to 500 Yards; Eleanor Holm Batters Old Mark

Jacksonville, Fla., March 19.—In one of the most remarkable performances of speed and endurance in the history of women's swimming contests, Helene Madison, sixteen-year-old Seattle star, knocked down six short-course United States swimming records here yesterday.

The slender exponent of freestyle speed swimming set up new marks for 200 yards, 250 yards, 300 yards, 400 yards, 500 yards, and 600 yards. Not since Gertrude Ederle, first woman to conquer the English Channel, smashed six world records in a 500-yard race against time in September, 1922, has anything been seen like the exhibition of Miss Madison.

Nine records in all fell at yesterday's meeting. With the exception of the 220-yard mark, all the former records which Miss Madison smashed had been held by Martha Norelius. The 220-yard record was held by Miss Ederle.

NOW THEY FALL

Here is the way the Seattle star's work yesterday stands:

Distance	Old Record	New Mark
200 yards	2:25 2-5	2:23
250 yards	2:41 1-5	2:39
300 yards	2:47 2-5	2:41
400 yards	3:15	3:00
500 yards	3:41	3:23 2-5
600 yards	3:50	3:37

Miss Madison also won the "queen pigeon" contest.

Miss Eleanor Holm, of the New York Swimming Association, yesterday clipped four-fifths second from the old mark in the 100-metre backstroke event. Her time was 22 3-5, compared to the old standard set in 1928 by Miss Liza Lindstrom, her teammate.

Other records fell in the 400-yard and 500-yard relays when the metropolitan team of Misses Holm, Lindstrom, Adelaide Lambert, Dorothea Dickinson, Catherine Ames and Agnes Gerahy took the latter for an assault on those two and the 600-yard mark. The new best time for the 400 was established at 4:27 2-5, one second faster than the old standard, while the 500-yard time was set back to 5:38 2-5 as compared with the former best of 5:38 9.

This season marks the first national tour in which Miss Madison has competed.

Tigers moved a step closer to the Allan Cup War yesterday evening when they defeated the Ottawa Shamrocks by a score of 6-2 in the second game of the eastern Canada semi-final. The Tigers won the initial contest, 9-2. Thus taking the round by a 2-4 count.

Hamilton will now meet the winners of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association final, in the eastern Canada final. The Tigers put the game and the series away safely in the first period when they scored five goals, while their opponents were gathering one.

Following these events the swimmers will hold a practice.

After spending a short holiday in Victoria renewing old friendships, Thomas R. Enderby, general manager of the Canada Steamship Lines Ltd., has left the city on his return to Montreal.

COL. VILLIERS GIVES REVIEW OF COAL TRADE

President of Canadian Collieries Limited Addresses Nanaimo Board of Trade

Nanaimo, March 18.—Col. C. W. Villiers addressed the Nanaimo Board of Trade last night at a dinner at the Malaspina Hotel, speaking on the coal situation. He stated the past year had been bad for coal operators all over the world.

The local mines depended on the domestic trade, which was economically bad.

Coal sales to railways this year were down 100,000 tons, which was a serious blow in part due to no wheat moving, the same condition also applied to shipping.

Dealers had stated people were only burning half the usual amount of coal, and fuel oil competition had been a big blow.

In the last two years the demand for coal had decreased 600,000 tons per year. The decrease meant loss of work for 1,500 miners working 300 days per year, lack of work for 4,500 other employees and 15,000 less population on Vancouver Island.

Railways and ships now burning oil should be burning coal and Col. Villiers quoted E. W. Beatty and D. C. Coleman of the Canadian Pacific Railway as stating that regulations for coal burning were a drawback to coal as engine fuel, owing to forest areas. Nevertheless, the speaker had great hopes that coal will be burned again on railways.

Smoke inspectors in Vancouver were prosecuting large hotels for smoke nuisance, and they had consequently turned to oil.

Collieries spend $5,000,000 a year in wages and all money goes to Vancouver and Victoria. Coal mine shareholders had received no dividends for thirteen years, although $25,000,000 was invested.

Col. Villiers remarked that the collieries might have engineers to teach people to burn coal properly, but profits were too small and the mines cannot afford it. He believed the British Columbia government and the Department of Mines were doing their best to help the situation.

Pulverized coal was being experimented with by the government and others, and was proving very successful.

A. Leighton, president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island moved the vote of thanks to Col. Villiers, being seconded by Mayor G. A. B. Hall.

Catholic Women Hear Address By Young Student

The March meeting of the Victoria Subdivision Catholic Women's League, held in the library of the bishop's house last evening the president, Mrs. McManus, in the chair, was of unusual interest, because of an address by Roland Roberts on "The Missionary Spirit." Mr. Roberts, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Roberts of Victoria, and an old St. Louis College boy, is at present spending a brief holiday with his parents, having returned from Scarborough, Ont., where he is a young scholar in the College for Chinese Missionaries, conducted by Rev. Father Pruss.

He spoke of the vast field in China and of the inspiration which prompted the going forth to teach. He made a strong plea for the sympathetic support of the foreign missions, chief of which is the Holy See.

Mr. Roberts received the thanks and good wishes of the meeting expressed by Mrs. McManus and Mrs. Ebbes Canadian.

An interesting feature of the evening was the presentation made to Mrs. de Trafford by the president of a league pin, with the best wishes of the subdivision to which she has belonged during her two years' visit in Victoria.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. de Trafford, a former secretary of the Catholic Women's League in Malvern, England, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. E. Vernon Thomson, in many months, is leaving on Friday via the Panama Canal for her home in England. The little gift was received with appreciation.

Miss H. O'Brien, reporting for social service, gave a full account of activities in the securing of a pension, in the placing of two boys on the road to success, of cases of follow-up work in connection with some girls' problems, of a baby having been adopted, and of another infant for adoption at St. Joseph's Hospital. Miss O'Brien gave a hearty vote of thanks to Miss McManus for the generous use of her car in social service work. The formation of a Saving Circle was advocated, and a warm tribute was paid to the unflinching kindness of Miss Mary Lawson of the Friend Help in which the committee never appealed in vain.

Mrs. Reid's reports as secretary was heard with pleasure, and Mrs. Hunter, as treasurer, received authority for the payment of bills. Mrs. Cannon reported for hospital visiting, visits having been faithfully made during the month, and Mrs. Service, and Mrs. Cockerill were appointed as the new visitors. During the past week Mrs. McManus presented a framed picture of the Fathers of Confederation to St. Louis College. A poster contest, in the boys of the college was suggested by Mrs. K. T. Hughes and approved by the meeting. Mrs. Burns was introduced.

T. Fukuma Bids Farewell to Wife and Children Returning to Tokio

All officialdom connected with the Japanese Consulate was transferred to Victoria to-day with the arrival from Vancouver of T. Fukuma, diplomatic representative of Emperor Hirohito in British Columbia. Madame Fukuma and family, together with members of the consular staff.

Consul Fukuma came over by Tuesday afternoon's boat and took a suite of rooms at the Empress Hotel for the accommodation of himself and family.

He is here to bid adieu to Madame Fukuma and their four children, two boys and one daughter, who sailed to-day by the liner Siberia Maru, en route to Yokohama.

The best accommodations aboard the steamer were reserved for the use of the family, which included a number of maids.

It is possible that Consul Fukuma himself will return to Japan before he takes up his post, but he has not yet decided.

He has been stationed at Vancouver for a number of years and has become very popular in the consular service here.

The consul proposes to return to Vancouver to-night.

WAR GRAVES IN FRANCE TENDED WITH MUCH CARE

Col. H. T. Goodland Has Wonderful Collection of Colored Slides to Show Friday

"The loving care lavished on the building and maintenance of these last resting places of our comrades in France and Flanders must bring consolation to their friends and relatives," said Sir Percy Lake, in a brief speech of thanks tendered to Col. H. T. Goodland, C.B., D.S.O., at the close of a private showing at the Memorial Hall yesterday evening of a series of very beautiful colored slides depicting the British cemeteries in the battlefields areas.

Col. Goodland was for nine years deputy controller of the Imperial War Graves Commission in France and Flanders, and last night's exhibition was a preliminary to the illustrated lecture which will give in the same place on Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock, when he will tell the story of the war cemeteries and memorials. The proceeds will be devoted to the fund to secure a provincial memorial to the "Million British Dead" who fell in the Great War.

BEAUTY AND DIGNITY

The pictures, all exquisitely colored by hand, are a moving revelation of the beauty and dignity of these "God's acres" wherein lie the men of the Empire who made the supreme sacrifice. Each cemetery has its own memorial of distinctive design, some with hand-carved colonnades recalling the Greek style of architecture, others with memorial seats of white stone, or with the familiar Cross of Sacrifice, but each shares the common characteristic of emerald lawns and flowers blooming on each well-tended plot.

In practically every picture, one is struck by the peaceful beauty of the surroundings. Shell-torn Mesines and Vimy Ridge, the famous sunken road between Bapaume and Arras on the Somme, and their former battlefields, have lost their ravaged look, and in the proximity of the cemeteries with their rows of white headstones, new farmhouses and villages nestle against the landscape.

The many magnificent monuments, including the Menin Gate at Ypres which commemorates the "Million British Dead," the dignified and beautiful Canadian national memorial at Vimy Ridge; the Indian memorial at Neuve Chapelle, the beautiful memorial park near Beaufort-Hamel, with its fifteen cemeteries and twenty-seven crosses all within an area of two miles, Sir Edward Layton's beautiful memorial to the author of "The Flanders Fields," a cemetery on the Gallipoli Peninsula, are among the pictures to be shown Friday night by Col. Goodland.

The thousands and thousands of beautifully-tended graves are eloquent testimony to the care given to their loved ones by the Imperial War Graves Commission, and some idea of the vastness of the undertaking may be gauged from the fact that in one cemetery alone, according to the latest land, thousands of tons of earth had to be carted to the scene before even a blade of grass could be made to grow.

Additional interest is lent to the lecture by the very excellent pictures showing the pilgrimage made by the King and Queen to the battlefields in 1922.

Vancouver Picks "Rep" Hockey Team To Play Victoria

Vancouver, March 13.—An all-star team from the mainland Grass Hockey League will visit Victoria on Saturday to oppose the Vancouver Island eleven in the second game of the intercity series for possession of the O. B. Allan Cup.

The following is the team selected to represent the mainland: Sanda (Cricketers), goal: Bob Peers (Crusaders), and Hudson (Iceogs) - backs: Desbary (Crusaders), Dick Peers (Crusaders), Browne (Vancouver), Stone (Cricketers) and Abercrombie (Vancouver), forwards: The reserves are Plumbly (Crusaders) and Meluhah (Vancouver).

Another interesting feature of the evening was the presentation made to Mrs. de Trafford by the president of a league pin, with the best wishes of the subdivision to which she has belonged during her two years' visit in Victoria.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. de Trafford, a former secretary of the Catholic Women's League in Malvern, England, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. E. Vernon Thomson, in many months, is leaving on Friday via the Panama Canal for her home in England. The little gift was received with appreciation.

Miss H. O'Brien, reporting for social service, gave a full account of activities in the securing of a pension, in the placing of two boys on the road to success, of cases of follow-up work in connection with some girls' problems, of a baby having been adopted, and of another infant for adoption at St. Joseph's Hospital. Miss O'Brien gave a hearty vote of thanks to Miss McManus for the generous use of her car in social service work. The formation of a Saving Circle was advocated, and a warm tribute was paid to the unflinching kindness of Miss Mary Lawson of the Friend Help in which the committee never appealed in vain.

Mrs. Reid's reports as secretary was heard with pleasure, and Mrs. Hunter, as treasurer, received authority for the payment of bills. Mrs. Cannon reported for hospital visiting, visits having been faithfully made during the month, and Mrs. Service, and Mrs. Cockerill were appointed as the new visitors. During the past week Mrs. McManus presented a framed picture of the Fathers of Confederation to St. Louis College. A poster contest, in the boys of the college was suggested by Mrs. K. T. Hughes and approved by the meeting. Mrs. Burns was introduced.

NEW POLICY TO GOVERN VALUES OF FARM LANDS

Legislation Sets Farming Worth as Basis of Acreage Assessment

Farmers in suburban municipalities benefit by an important amendment to the Municipal Act contained in the bill presented to the Legislature yesterday by Attorney-General Pooley.

Land held in blocks of five acres or more and used solely for agricultural, horticultural, poultry raising or stock raising purposes shall, during such use be assessed at the value which the land has for such purposes without regard to its value for any other purpose, the bill provides.

Wires and poles of telephone, telegraph and power companies are to be assessed as if they were land, the bill provides. An assessment of $200 a mile of line is to apply in municipalities of 10,000 population and over, while in others the rate is to be $125 a mile. Tramway line is to be assessed at $3,280 a mile and privately-owned right of way as if it were land.

Municipal councils may exempt fruit trees from assessment and taxation, if they so elect, the bill says.

BILLS RATTLE THROUGH HOUSE

Twenty Bills and Resolutions Passed By Legislature in as Many Minutes

After having spent the entire day up to 10:45 p.m. on one order of business the Legislature Tuesday in the next fifteen or twenty minutes rattled through more than twenty bills and resolutions.

Thomas Uphill and W. R. Rutledge made pleas for the introduction of a bill giving the workers in public utility companies the advantages of the Employment Act. These were public servants the same as municipal and government employees it was contended, and it was in the public interest that their employment should be made secure and satisfactory to them.

Dr. C. H. Kingston moved adjournment of the debate, and according to report the motion is intended by the government to die on the order paper in so far as this session is concerned. T. D. Pattullo voiced objection to the introduction of new legislation by Attorney-General Pooley, but first readings were given to bills amending the Land Registry, Administration and Summary Jurisdiction acts. Various other acts already introduced were advanced through second reading and committee stages without objection, but contentious measures were by agreement stood over to this morning.

ALLOWED TO ADVANCE
Opposition members allowed all non-contentious measures to advance without interruption and eight or ten third readings were given.

SOLDIERS' HOME IS CONSIDERED

Dr. J. H. King Gives Assurance to Local Pensioners' Group

"You may rest assured that the representations of your association will receive every consideration," was the reply of Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Health and Pensions, to communications from the secretary of the Canadian Pensioners' Association here in regard to proposals for the establishment of a soldiers' convalescent home in this city.

D. B. Plunkett, M.P. for Victoria, who was also informed of the plan, replied that he would discuss the matter with the minister at the first opportunity. He also said: "I think the service men of our country should be approached, not from the attitude of charity or pity, but upon the basis of merit and loyalty they have given the Empire, and which we as citizens can by no means repay. It should be our duty to place such men in a position of independence, so that they may hold up their heads now as they did when serving the Empire."

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)
Winnipeg, March 19.—Wheat: Continued firmness in Liverpool combined with low freezing temperatures forecast for to-night over Kansas and other areas of the winter wheat belt, gave wheat a stronger tone again to-day, the market opening about 1 cent higher, and on the extreme bulge prices showed gains of 2 1/2 cents from the close yesterday.

The full upturn was not held as Chicago weakened in the late trade and Winnipeg followed, but the two May again worked to an even basis. There was a little buying at times by eastern interests and a little early buying by commission houses, but the bulk of the demand came from shorts who were covering up based on weather news and the better tone in Liverpool.

Export business was again disappointing. A cargo of three northern wheat was reported worked to Greece by New York interests and a few loads of two northern and other grades were worked by local exporters.

Millers and shippers were in the cash market for some of the top grades at spreads 1/2 to 1 over yesterday's close, while all offerings were very light.

Russia was offering more wheat to Britain, which was being diverted to Holland due to a boycott against Russian products. Wheat may do a little better, but unless there is a considerable damage to growing crops believe wheat would be sold on sharp upturn.

Coarse Grains.—These markets were a little more active and there appeared to be considerable speculative buying going on, on the basis that prices were all too low. Rye was strong and there was considerable buying of Winnipeg futures against sales of Chicago. Cash demand for all coarse grains is extremely quiet and is confined to a small business in low grades, with Eastern Canadian grain.

Flax.—This market again moved to higher levels. Business continued quiet with very little of feature going on.

How to Win a Wife. Exposes Methods of Approach.

A YOUNG man who frankly admits that he has been successful in his love affairs wants to know how to win a woman. Well, son, there are no set rules for courting. It is a matter of the inspiration of the moment and the reason that a lot of men fail to get the wives they want is because they didn't have the right hunch at the right time. They were humble when they should have been masterful. They told home truths when they should have let go all hold on veracity and lied like Ananias. They popped the question in the middle of a meal when their mouths were full of mashed potatoes and rare roast beef instead of sentiment, and so their Lady Loves said "No" instead of murmuring "Yes."

No shiek has ever yet charmed out a high road to a woman's heart and put up signboards that say, "Take this turn to the right," or "Avoid that detour and you cannot fail to arrive at your goal." Every girl is different from every other girl and must be approached in a different manner, so every man has to adapt his technique to the occasion and use the treatment that the particular case seems to indicate, as doctors say.

Probably the best and most effective general all-the-way-round method of wooing is the caveman style. In her secret soul every woman wants some brutal lover who will be so mad for her that he will knock her down with a club and drag her by the hair of her head to his lair if that is the only way of getting her. Every woman wants to be swept off her feet by some man who will dominate her and who will marry her in spite of herself and who will make her believe that he will commit murder upon any other man who comes near her.

So, when you go courting, son, never go humbly. Never abase yourself before a woman if you want her, because no woman can ever resist the temptation to kick the man who is kneeling at her feet or to refrain from trampling on one who makes of himself a doormat before her. It is the bold men the strong men, the arrogant men that women fall for.

If you beseech a woman to name the wedding day, she will keep putting it off, but if you announce to her that she will marry you on next Thursday she may say that she won't be ordered about and she won't do it, but come Thursday she will be waiting for you at the altar with her wedding veil on.

Curiously enough, next to battering down the door to a woman's heart and entering in and taking possession the best method of approach is by way of the confessional. If few women can resist the caveman, no more can they resist the penitent. There is something about a black sheep that just naturally appeals to them and makes them want to take him to their bosoms and make a pet of him.

Perhaps it is the maternal in them that makes them want to shelter and protect a poor, weak, helpless creature who can't stand alone in the world. Perhaps the man's allure for them is the field he offers for woman's eternal mania for reforming things. Perhaps there is always something romantic, especially to a very good woman, in a dark, sinister past filled with sins that she cannot even guess at.

At any rate, for whatever reasons, the undesirable and the ineligible have a fatal attraction for women. There is no surer way of winning a woman's interest and her affection than by telling her a hard-luck story, and even although a man confesses to half the crimes in the calendar, if he makes a woman believe that she alone can reform him, it is all over except sending out the wedding cards.

If women like to be won in a whirlwind courtship, they likewise succumb to a patient siege. Therefore, a man is foolish who gets discouraged when a girl refuses him the first five or six times he asks her to be his.

If he wants her, all that he has to do is to camp on her doorstep and be always Johnny-on-the-spot. Thus will he establish himself as a habit with her.

And without knowing it she will become dependent upon his society, upon his fetching and carrying and making life pleasant and agreeable for her. Also, without her noticing it he will drive other suitors away and then when he judiciously absents himself she will realize how empty life would be without him and gladly cast herself into his arms.

Millions of men wear out women's sales resistance by their persistence and marry girls who swore that they would never marry them, and live happily ever after.

Of course, all girls like to be flattered and told how beautiful and wonderful they are and they lend a willing ear to the man who is a girls love-maker. Also, they fall for the romantic stuff, but if you tell that nature didn't fit you to quote poetry and build verbal castles in Spain, so in heavy for the fifty-fifty partnership marriage stuff. That goes strong with the modern girl, for it leads her to believe that you will help her wash the dishes and roll the baby carriage and come across with a regular allowance.

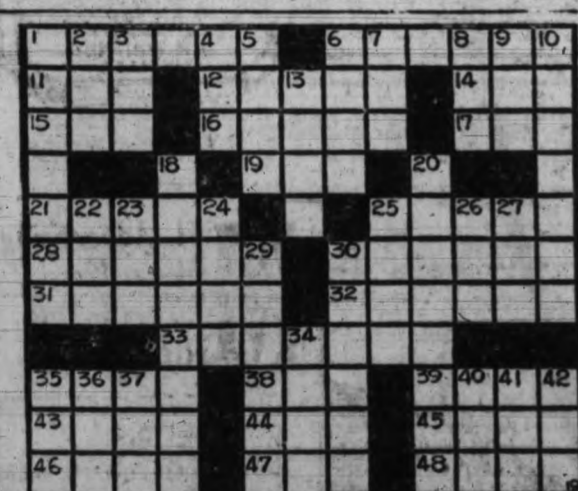

Also remember that whether a girl says "yes" or "no" when you pop the question depends to a large extent upon how and where you do it. Never propose to a woman in her hour of triumph when she is looking her best or when she has on a new dress or has just had a raise in salary. Then she is sufficient unto herself and wants to be bothered with no man. Wait until she is tired and her hair is out of curl and things gone wrong at the office and all she wants is some man's shoulder to cry on and some man to lean on.

And never propose in a crowd or in the midst of a meal or when you are crossing the street. It is a woman's great moment and it makes her so mad to have it muffed that she can't resist saying "no," no matter how much she wants you.

But, son, if a girl loves you and wants you, any old style of courting will go.

COAL SEAM CUT
AT SOOKE HARBOR
BY OIL DRILLERS

The drilling crew of an eastern prospecting company which last week started putting down a hole at the end of the spit at Sooke Harbor to test the strata at depth for indications of oil-bearing shales, yesterday cut a six-inch seam of coal.

The coal seam was cut by the diamond drill at thirty feet below the surface. It is too narrow for commercial purposes, the drillers explained, but it is taken as indicating the possibility of other seams in the district.

Manson Clears Air On Beer Price Increase

Dispels Impression Conveyed by Carefully-worded
Questions on Order Papers and Calls Upon
Attorney-General Pooley to Admit Misrepresentation; Pooley Silent.

A frank and sportsmanlike admission from Attorney-General Pooley that facts on beer prices during A. M. Manson's term of office as Attorney-General, had been misrepresented on the order papers to infer improperly on the part of Mr. Manson, was demanded in the Legislature yesterday.

NOT RETRACTIVE
Mr. Manson reviewed the subject to show the prices were increased $1.50 per barrel and not $2.58 per barrel.
The difference between $1.50 and $2.58 was established, Mr. Manson showed, after a dispute between the brewers and the Dominion Excise officials on gallons. The volume of beer for which the government paid $16.50 was exactly the same as that for which it previously paid $15.00. Mr. Manson also emphasized that the payment was not retroactive as had been presumed in many quarters.

Mr. Pooley's reply was that he quoted from sworn evidence before a Royal Commission.

"Not all the evidence," said Mr.
Manson, "The evidence that would clear this point was omitted. The courteous and manly thing to do is to rise and make the amendment honorable."

"I have made my statement," was the only reply Mr. Pooley would make on the point of privilege immediately on the opening of the House.

"I desire," he said, "to refer again to a series of questions, inspired, I think, by the Hon. the Attorney-General, addressed by the Hon. the Member for North Okanagan to the Hon.
the Attorney-General, with regard to a certain increase in the price paid by the Crown to the brewers for beer, which increase was given in the spring of 1924. These questions were permitted to stand on the order paper for this House from the 24th day of February, until the 5th day of March.
"I may be pardoned if I suggest that the intent of carrying the questions on the order paper for so long a period was to broadcast just as far as possible the inference that there was some impropriety in my conduct as Attorney-General of this Province in approving of the increase mentioned.
The answers were given on the evening of the 5th of March. The answers were given in an unusual form.

CONTAIN INFERENCE
"The Attorney-General was at some pains to have the answers so framed, as to demonstrate that the actual increase in price given to the brewers was $2.58 per barrel, and not $1.50, as was generally understood. The answers were so framed also as to convey the obvious inference that I, as Attorney-General of this Province, had deceived the House and the country by stating that the increase in price was only $1.50 per barrel. The Hon. the Attorney-General actually quoted from evidence taken under oath before a select committee of this House, in the answers given to the Hon. Member for North Okanagan. The following day, namely, March 6, as one might anticipate, the Vancouver Province carried a story, certainly not calculated to enhance the reputation of public life in the Province, and in particular of one who had filled the post of Attorney-General for almost eight years.

"I have a clipping from The Vancouver Province of March 6, in deep black headlines the following: 'Revelation on Beer Prices.' The sub-headline reads: 'Increase Granted by Liberals to Brewers Was $2.58 per Barrel.' And find the dispatch, dated Victoria, March 6: 'Famous increase in beer prices granted by the Oliver Government to British Columbia brewers early in 1924, amounting to $2.58 a barrel, and not $1.50, as stated officially at that time, according to detailed and surprising facts revealed to the Legislature for the first time to-day
by Attorney-General Pooley.'

QUOTATION WRONG
"What are the facts? The mathematical quotation of the Hon. the Attorney-General is entirely wrong because it proceeds upon a false premise.
A dispute arose between the brewers and the Excise Department of the Dominion Government as to the gallonage of a barrel of bottled beer, namely as to the contents of ten dozen pints, which constituted a barrel.

"It is to be borne in mind that the government of this Province was only buying beer in bottled form at that time. Beer by the glass did not come into effect for over a year thereafter, namely in March, 1925. The Dominion Government was charging excise on the basis of 9.7 gallons. The climax of the dispute was reached when the Dominion Government finally agreed to charge on the basis of nine gallons to the ten dozen pints, instead of 9.7 gallons as theretofore. The volume of beer which the government of this Province purchased for $16.50 was exactly the same as the volume it purchased for $15.00. The exact and correct increase in price was $1.50 per barrel of ten dozen pints. The answer therefore given to the Hon. Member for North Okanagan by the Hon. the Attorney-General was entirely incorrect and misleading, and the unwittingly mischievous comment in the press was based upon false information.

COMPROMISE PRICE
"One point in conclusion, the new price of $16.50 was not in any sense retroactive. After about eight months' negotiations the Amalgamated Brewers (the brewers' union) combined, if you will, issued an ultimatum to the government demanding, not the original demand of $17.50 a barrel or thereabouts
—a compromise price of $16.50. That letter was received the first day of March. It would have cost the government close to $19.00 a barrel to have bought beer from Alberta, if we could have purchased it there at all. The bills for the month of March, 1924, were paid on the new basis. I repeat the new price was not retroactive.

"I trust this situation is now clear and for all, and that we shall hear no more about it. I suggest to the Attorney-General, that in a manly, sporting fashion, he advise this House that the information which he gave in answer to the member for North Okanagan in the answers of the 5th of March, was incorrect and given under a misapprehension."

NEW PLAYGROUND
TO BE MADE FOR SAANICH CHILDREN

A children's playground may be created by Saanich at the corner of Cloverdale Road and Oak Street, where the council some years ago set aside for park and school purposes a block of four level, cleared lots. At yesterday evening's session of the council, Councillor Crowhurst urged erection of swings and provision of fencing, there being a large number of children in the vicinity, most of whom at present play on the streets.

A report on the cost will be made by Engineer Allan, and if Councillor Crowhurst can provide the money required from the appropriation of Ward 2, it is expected that the work will be undertaken this spring.

Greyhounds are perhaps the oldest known type of dog. Stone carvings dating back to about 4000 B.C. show figures of these graceful animals.

How To Stop
Food Souring
In Stomach

Avoid Gas and Indigestion

It is gas, formed by fermenting food,
that after meals bloats your stomach,
causing sourness, heartburn, dullness, uncomfortable fullness and pains of indigestion. Drugs, stomach tonics and artificial digestants fail to give satisfactory relief because they have little or no effect on the stomach acids that have been proved to be the real cause of sassy stomach and practically all indigestion. Instead an absolutely pure, antacid or neutralizing agent should be used after meals to neutralize the excess acid in the stomach, and undoubtedly nothing could be better or safer for the purpose than Bisulphated Magnesia.
This you can obtain from any good drugstore in either powder or tablet form, and in each case a teaspoonful of the powder, or four tablets taken with a little water
after meals will be sufficient to instantly neutralize excessive acidity of the stomach, stop and prevent premature souring and fermentation of the food and permit a normal, painless digestion of whatever you have eaten. Try this simple prescription and be delighted with your entire freedom from indigestion. (Adv.)

AT THE THEATRES

VARIETY COMEDY GIVES SCOPE FOR
FINE PERFORMANCE

The lift of laughter and the charm of a sweet story of love, distinguished the comedy, "Peg o' My Heart," in which the Toby Leitch Players appear at the Variety Theatre this week.

This celebrated comedy has been presented in every country of the civilized world. In six years after its initial production in Los Angeles, it had been presented no fewer than 10,233 times!
The talented Leone Weber is responsible for a splendid hit of acting in the difficult role of Peg, the lonely, lovely little Irish girl who comes to England from New York to live with her aristocratic relations, the Chichesters. Her difficulties are manifold, but she triumphs in the end.

MALE CHOIR
IN EXCELLENT
PERFORMANCE

Local Group Under F. Tupman Gives Fine Concert at Amphion Hall

Demonstrating in no small measure its eligibility among the recognized organizations of the city, the Victoria Male Choir, under the baton of Frank L. Tupman, yesterday evening presented an excellent programme of choral numbers, solos and instrumental selections at the Amphion Hall.

The recital was under the auspices of the Royal Society of St. George, and Harry Langley, the president, acted as chairman.

An attention to the baton of the conductor and a very pleasing rendition were most noticeable in the performance of the choir. Steady improvement has been made in this group of singers and the dramatic effects in the programme were outstanding.

FINE PERFORMANCE
Speak's "Sylvia," which gave ample scope for the fine range of voices, was among the most delightful numbers, while Candlish's "Buccaners" and Ger-man's beautiful "O Peaceful Night" were gems of accomplishment.

Other numbers by the choir included Strickland's "Hear Dem Bells," Nevin's "Mighty Lak a Rose," Elgar's
"Ziti Ziti," Richardson's "Mary," Protheroe's "Laudamus De," Call's
"Evening" and Jenkins' "Lee Shore."
Harry Hollins made an excellent accompanist.

Vocal solos were rendered by Miss Isobel Crawford, mezzo soprano, and
G. M. Humphries, baritone.

SOLOIST SCORES
Miss Crawford was accorded a fine reception with her "Piper of Love" and "Bongas My Mother Taught Me." A nice sympathy of expression with an appealing sentiment were found in her clear and firm voice which was used with delicacy and discretion.

Curran's "Life" and Terry's "The Answer" were included in her second group and proved very enjoyable.

Bruno Huhn's "Invictus" in the capable handling of Mr. Humphries, whose solidity of tone and fine dramatic sense, proved to be of delightful nature, was one of the outstanding features of the programme. His other contribution was Cherry's "Will o' the Wisp," sung with a pleasing attitude.

FIANIST EXCELS
As a pianist of considerable ability,
Miss Dorothy Morton excelled herself in three numbers done with unusual skill and charm. "Revolutionary Etude" by Chopin, was a fine example of her confidence and assuredness.

There was an intensity of feeling and profoundness of expression which provoked tribute not only to the composer
but to the artist herself. Stojewski's
"Chant D'Amore" and "Shadow March" were the other numbers by Miss Morton.

Messrs. Spooner, Honeychurch, Buck-ler and Rowley composed the Imperial Male Quartette, delighted with the negro melody, "Doan Yo Cry Ma Honey," which was followed by the humorous "Sweet Sixteen," an encore.

A bouquet was presented to Miss Crawford by Mrs. Harry Langley.

To Douglas Patterson, student of the creating the first officially recognized emblem for the Oak Bay High School.

In a contest of designs submitted by the young Patterson submitted the best design among fifty competitors.

The design shows an oak tree in a

Behind the water is a row of mountains over which the sun is rising.

WAR ATMOSPHERE
SECURED IN GARRY
COOPER'S PICTURE

Five technical directors assisted Richard Wallace, Paramount director, in establishing the authentic atmosphere in "Seven Days' Leave," the Garry
Dominion Theatre.

War-time London and the trenches in Flanders are the background for the story and a technical director was assigned to each major phase of the picture.

Bertram Johns, former English actor, was in charge of the wardrobe of the Cockney characters employed in the London sequences. Frank Terry, scenario writer and former London music hall favorite, advised on the typical music-hall sequences.

Leutenant-Colonel McDonnell, formerly of the Canadian Princess Pals, assisted in the war scenes.

GERMAN DIRECTOR
SCORES SUCCESS IN FILM "SEVEN FACES"

Much of the artistry seen in "Seven Faces," Fox Movietone all talking production now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, is due to Berthold Viertel, director. Viertel was one of the leading stage and screen directors of Germany and he brings to "Seven Faces" a long experience which embraces all branches of theatrical art. Paul Mun-st plays seven distinct roles in this picture.

BORROWED $100
TO START ON ROAD
TO DANCING FAME

If it had not been for a borrowed $100 bill, Mary Eaton might not be playing the leading role in "No Foolin'," now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

While Mary and her sister were playing the leading child-roles in "The Bluebird" in a stock company in Washington, D.C., their work attracted so much attention that they were given an offer to appear in the same roles in a big road company being assembled in New York. Their mother borrowed $100 to finance the children's trip to the metropolis. It was this journey which paved the way to Mary Eaton's debut as premier danseuse of the Ziegfeld Follies.

When Paramount decided to film
S. P. McEvoy's popular novel, "Glorifying the American Girl," Miss Eaton was chosen as the logical actress to play the leading role.

George Arliss And Wife Life Members
Of Humane Society

The local anti-vice society is in receipt of two new life membership fees, these coming from George Arliss,
the well-known actor and his wife,
Mrs. Arliss has been an honorary member of the society since its inception nine years ago and now wishes to show his faith in its sincerity and progressiveness by becoming a life supporter.

The range of the great actor's activities in the cause of humanness is very wide. He is also backing the newly formed National Anti-vice-society in the "United States," adopting this method of giving publicity to the cruelties of animal experimentation with a view to getting the practice abolished. With the energies expended on this continent and in European countries, a struggle is to be waged which is unprecedented in the annals of humane progress.

The most famous of English surgeons, Professor Lawson Tait, once said: Vice-surgeons have done great harm to the medical profession, a statement which is proving itself to be true in every respect.

The thanks of the local society are due to all those who stand for humaneness, have so generously supported the cause. George Arliss has recently endeared himself to all theatregoers by his impersonation of the character of "Mr. Disraeli," a play in which Mrs. Arliss also took a prominent part.

The local organization will celebrate its ninth birthday in April, when Ernest Fawcett, M.D., of Vancouver, will be the speaker.

Amazed! Way
Tanlac Relieves
"Rheumatism"

For years the remarkable results obtained from Tanlac in the treatment of general rundown conditions have amazed its users, but most surprising of all is the quick relief this remarkable medicine gives in cases of "rheumatism" and stomach ills that yield to nothing else.

Men or women who thought themselves
beyond human aid, who suffered for years with pains from stomach and bowel troubles, neuritis, chronic headaches, dizziness, sleeplessness, constipation, who saw themselves daily going down into a sickly early old age have through the amazing stimulant and clearing action of this REAL MEDICINE, Tanlac, found themselves once more in the possession of a strong healthy stomach and a body free from pain. One user says: "I suffered tortures from gastric rheumatism but after taking Tanlac for a couple of weeks I was over the rheumatism, my kidneys acting fine, my digestion in excellent order." Try it—get a bottle from the nearest druggist. Satisfaction guaranteed or money back. Accept no substitute.

PHYLLIS HAVER
IS ONCE AGAIN
BATHING BEAUTY

Phyllis Haver, who has one of the principal roles in D. W. Griffith's "The Battle of the Sexes," now showing at the Columbia Theatre, is screened in her bathing suit for the first time in five years.

Miss Haver, along with Gloria Swanson and Marie Prevost, was an original Mack Bennett bathing girl. In those days her only working costume consisted of swimming attire.

LILLIAN CHRISTINE
HAS AMUSING ROLE
IN ROYAL COMEDY

"Tell Me the Truth," at the Royal Theatre this week seems likely to prove the most successful offering the Gordon McLeod Players have made here. It is certainly the funniest and is a year of laughter from the rise to the fall of the curtain.

Lillian Christine shows her versatility in the part of a prim maiden Aunt, who suddenly becomes very gay and her comedy is perfect.

Margaret St. Barbe West has an exceptionally fine role and brings to it freshness and charm. Ann Farrer as the other and more severe aunt given a fine little character sketch. Ernest Bodkin as the family lawyer is clever and amusing. Roland Gillett and Claude Bailey both have parts which are funny, and to which these clever young actors do full justice. Maude Blay and Harcourt Aubrey are excellent in smaller roles.
